Close up to grow together and learn more.
This kind of intervention can have young people grow up in terms of awareness and critical consciousness, but at the same time, through this closeness, we grow up too and get involved in a world that otherwise would be stranger to us.

overnight

The Overnight project was born in 2006 in Trieste from the collaboration between various partners including the Province and a youth organization. This is a project dedicated to young people, aimed at reducing the risks derived from direct and indirect consumption of psychotropic substances during night entertainment, using innovative strategies such as offering free alternative transportation (shuttle bus and taxi). Operators (health, education, peer support) are present on both the bus and inside the entertainment places with a visible mobile station, to speak with the youngsters, to promote the role of "designated driver", to provide information and promotional materials, condoms, promotional gadgets of the initiative, areas of decompression (chill-out), but above all to stay close to young people and exchange knowledge and expertise with them and bring them to specialist services if needed.
